June 1972

TO: Republican County Committee Members
FROM: Bylaws Committee
SUBJECT: REVISION OF BYLAWS

The Bylaws Committee believes that the simplest method of presenting the proposed revision to our Bylaws is to provide you with a complete copy of the final form as it would appear if the changes we recommend are adopted.

This will enable you to study the proposed document in its entirety (For proxy purposes, this revision is entitled proposed revised draft of the County Bylaws, dated May 11, 1972.)

These revisions resulted from review and consideration by the Bylaws Committee of the many suggestions received relative to providing the Bucks County Republican Committee with comprehensive yet flexible rules to conduct its operation.

Of significant note is the proposed change in composition of the Executive Committee to include both elected and appointed members, and requirements for these representatives to meet with their committeepeople at least quarterly. The balance of the changes relate to mechanics of operation.

P.S. Silver elephant pin award for those committee people whose term has just expired is available through your executive committee leaders. Please make certain you obtain yours from them.

RULE VII

CODE OF ETHICS

The Republican Party of Bucks County values its endorsement and support of elected and appointed public officials. It believes their responsibilities to the community exceed the obligations of the ordinary citizen. These responsibilities can be fulfilled through literal adherence to the tenets embodied in their oath of office and are subject to final determination by the voters. However, if such office holders or aspirants seek the endorsement of the Republican Party of Bucks County, they should freely agree to abide by such principles as are established by the Party for the guidance of those who receive the benefit of its support. Not every situation which the office holders may encounter can be foreseen, but fundamental ethical principles must always be present for guidance.

It is assumed that an office holder has the right to seek for himself the things that will provide him and his family the means to take their proper place in the community. But it is also assumed that his service to the public takes precedence over all other considerations.

The primary responsibility of serving the public is fulfilled by providing the highest type of service of which he is capable and by avoiding any conduct which leads directly or indirectly to lowering the public's esteem for his office or the Republican Party of Bucks County.

This responsibility cannot be reduced to a fixed series of urgings and prohibitions, for while the basic obligation remains unchanged, its fulfillment may vary with the changing demands of society. It is the spirit, not the letter, of the obligation that must be weighed in determining the acceptable conduct of the office holder.

The public also has the right to expect the same level of ethical conduct from each non-elected appointee or associate of the office holder in any matter pertaining to the public office. The office holder must ultimately assume responsibility for the conduct of each of his employees and associates.

The CODE OF ETHICS OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF BUCKS COUNTY provides the following ethical standards:

Each Republican office holder and appointee shall:

1. Conduct himself at all times in a manner which shall reflect creditably on the Party.
2. Adhere to the spirit and the letter of his oath of office.
3. Accept no remuneration by virtue of the improper exertion of influence.
4. Accept no gift of substantial value from any individual or group of individuals directly affected by the exercise of the functions of his office.
5. Accept no excessive honorarium.
6. Keep campaign funds separate from personal funds.
7. Treat as campaign contributions all proceeds from testimonial or other fund raising events if the sponsors of such affairs do not give clear notice in advance to the donors or participants that the proceeds are intended for other purposes.
8. Faithfully and conscientiously perform the duties of his office.
9. Observe suitable standards of morality and integrity in the conduct of his personal life.
10. Recognize and respect the constitutional rights of all men and avoid extreme philosophies which would be inconsistent with such rights.

In the final analysis, however, it is the desire for the respect and confidence of the society which he serves that should motivate an office holder toward the highest possible degree of ethical conduct.
